HAD TO ARREST HIM.

At 10 o'clock a woman ran out of the house at 512 East Fourteenth street, and, meeting Policeman Morris, asked him to take charge of her husband. She told in an excited way that she believed the man Accompanying the woman to the third John Fry, thirty-four years old, a cattleship man, being held down on the floor by two men. The policeman didn't understand the matter at all. Then Mrs. Fry came and told that an hour after her husband had been taken to the hospital in his frantic state he had returned, more violent than ever. He had scarcely been in the house ten minutes, when he made an effort to throw himself from the third-story window.
